1.1 Introduction

PDFs are searchable. They can be searched using PDX files and enable you to search all RenderWare Graphics PDF files in the doc directory.

1.1.1 Acrobat Version Details

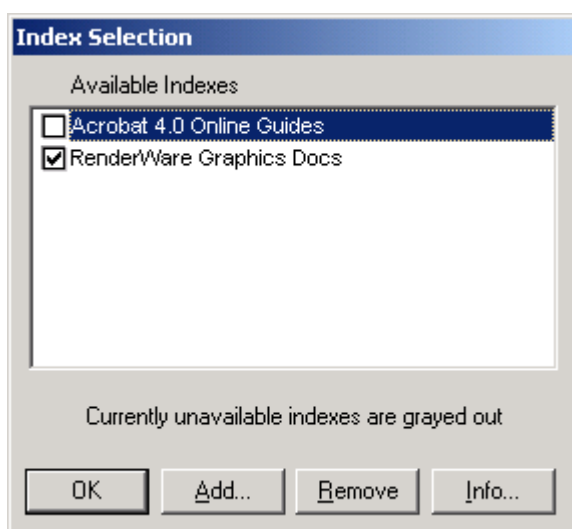

Not every version of Adobe Acrobat enables you to search facilities documented in this document. However if you have one of the following you will be able to search within PDFs.

- full version of Adobe Acrobat 4+
- Adobe Acrobat Reader 5 or later – when downloading this from the Adobe site www.adobe.com enable the "Include option for searching PDF files" in the download section.

1.1.2 Selecting Indexes

To start using the PDX file the index needs to be selected.

1. Open a RenderWare Graphics PDF. For example RW\Graphics\docs\UserGuide\UserGuideVoll1.pdf
2. Edit → Search → Select Indexes...
3. The RenderWare Graphics Docs index needs to be checked. If this index does not exist in the dialog go to step 4.

4. Click on Add and find the file RW\Graphics\docs\index.pdx. RenderWare Graphics Docs is added to the list of available indexes.

The PDX file is named index<platform>.pdx.

1.1.3 Querying Indexes

To search for a specific term in PDFs follow these steps:

1. Edit → Search → Query...
2. Insert the text to search on and click "Search". For example:

3. The Search Results dialog is displayed.

The greater the fill in the circle on the left the more relevant the document.

4. Double click on the document to view the reference.

1.1.4 Moving Between Search Results

Moving Between the Next Result and Previous Result

Use the following menu paths to move between the next and the previous result in a document and eventually into the next and previous document in the search results window.

Edit → Search → Next

Edit → Search → Previous

Moving Between Documents in the Search Results window

Use the following menu paths to move between documents:

Edit → Search → Next Document

Edit → Search → Previous Document

1.1.5 Viewing the Results Window

To view the results window again:

Edit → Search → Results

1.1.6 Word Assistant

The Word Assistant can be used for finding words that "Sound Like". The words that appear in the Word Assistant existing with the index.pdx and therefore somewhere in the PDFs. Once a word is obtained it can then be queried.

Edit → Search → Word Assistant
